

“We have been implementing Targeted Reading and Mathematics Intervention kits in our Saturday program at PS 23 in Jersey City, NJ. Our population consists of a majority of students with disabilities and English language Learners. Both kits have been very successful during our program. The teachers love the lesson plans and the fact that they are standards based. The students love the games! They view it as a “treat” during the last 25 minutes of the class. It is a great activity to use as a center and/or in small groups. Last year, many of our general education students moved from partially proficient to proficient on the NJASK in both Language Arts and Math.

The consultants at Teacher Created Materials are very knowledgeable and easy to work with!”
